

LOST IN A DIGITAL WORLD?

DOCUMENTING ART MONUMENTS & PHOTOGRAPHS IN THE 21ST CENTURY

A JOINT WORKSHOP ON

DATA MODELLING, METADATA STANDARDS, AND INTEROPERABILITY

Have you ever found searching online databases and catalogs frustrating?

Have you ever wondered whether the information you found was accurate and reliable?

Have you ever asked yourself whether your research results were complete?

In this joint online workshop of the Herder Institute for Historical Research on East Central Europe (Germany) and the University of Pittsburgh, we will address the advantages, common pitfalls, and challenges of documenting, digitizing, and researching archival material in the digital age. The organizers are pleased to share their experiences from a recently completed digital history project, “Art Monuments in East Central Europe (FoKO).”
